Center for Service & Sustainability

How YOU can use the Green Revolving Fund

Next Proposal deadline is November 1

What is the Green Revolving Fund? The GRF is primarily a fund that supports energy efficiency projects here on campus, but also has a portion available for projects proposed by Champlain College community members.

The GRF aims to fund projects that:

- * Promote awareness and understanding of sustainability in education, campus culture and behavior
- * Directly or indirectly reduce Champlain's environmental impact
- * Encourage student participation, learning and leadership
- * Engage members of the Champlain community
- * Use funding cost-effectively

How might you use this?

Faculty: create an assignment around the GRF, as they do for the Corporate Social Responsibility classes; bring a class project to the implementation phase, as Robin Collins did with an idling project in her Environmental Earth Science class; or bring a speaker to campus to support your class content

SGA clubs & Student leaders: to help fill a budget gap for a project you think important for the Champlain College community or to bring a speaker to campus to motivate your in- or out-of-class learning

Employees & students: to bring an idea to reality that you think would make Champlain a more sustainable campus

Have an idea for a project? Email us the idea and we'll give you feedback on how best to proceed.

Proposal Form found here. Proposals for projects are due November 1 and March 1.
