Understanding Your Financial Aid Offer

In this Resource Guide, you will find information regarding the various categories of awards listed on your financial aid offer letter. To help guide you, we've also included loan comparisons, costs, payment options, and contact information, as well as data that points to the value of Champlain's career-focused education.

Your Financial Aid Offer

The federal and state aid included in your offer letter is based on the most recent information you provided on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), if applicable. Changes you make to your FAFSA data could impact your awards. If your FAFSA is selected by the federal government for verification, your federal and state aid is not final until you have submitted the required documentation and your file has been reviewed. You will receive a revised offer letter if any of your awards change.

Award Types

Financial aid offers are broken into three categories:

Scholarships & Grants page 2

Loans pages 3-4

The following pages describe each award type in detail.

Scholarships & Grants

Champlain College Scholarships: Champlain offers a number of institutionally funded scholarships to full-time undergraduate students on the basis of academic strength and financial need. These scholarships do not have to be repaid. And, with our Count-On-It Financial Aid Guarantee, you can count on the full amount of your Champlain scholarships being renewed from year to year as long as you are enrolled full time. Vermont First and Pathway scholarship recipients must remain in campus housing to qualify for the maximum offer. Funds are posted to the student's account each semester following enrollment verification, which generally occurs after the second week of the semester.

Champlain Endowed Scholarships: These scholarships are funded by gifts from donors and foundations and are offered to students who meet the donors' designated criteria. Qualifications and amounts vary, but the determination of the scholarship is generally based on financial need.

A complete list of scholarships and criteria is available at champlain.edu/finaid. Students who receive endowed scholarships are required to complete a survey from the Office of Advancement in order to provide donors with information about the recipient of the scholarship. Funds are posted to the student's account each semester following enrollment verification, which generally occurs after the second week of the semester.

Federal Pell Grant: The Pell Grant does not have to be repaid. Pell Grant eligibility and the amount of the grant are based on the FAFSA Expected Family Contribution (EFC). Funds are posted to the student's account each semester following enrollment verification, which generally occurs after the second week of the semester.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG): The SEOG is awarded to Pell Grant recipients with exceptional financial need and does not have to be repaid. Funds are posted to the student's account each semester following enrollment verification, which generally occurs after the second week of the semester.

Vermont State Grant Estimate: The Vermont State Grant is a need-based grant administered by the Vermont Student Assistance Corporation (VSAC) to Vermont residents and does not have to be repaid. The amount listed on your offer letter is Champlain College's estimate of your VSAC award and is subject to change. Final grant amounts are determined by VSAC based on financial need and state appropriations. Funds are posted to the student's account after enrollment is verified and payment is received from VSAC.

To receive funding, the student must complete a Vermont Grant application at vsac.org.

State Grant Estimates (Non-Vermont): Residents of other states should contact their state grant agency to complete any required forms and determine possible eligibility. State grant amounts listed on your offer letter are Champlain College's estimate of your state grant eligibility and are subject to change. Final grant amounts are determined by your state grant agency based on financial need and state appropriations. Funds are posted to the student's account after enrollment is verified and payment is received from your state grant agency.

Loans

Federal Direct Loans: Direct Loans are federal student loans that must be repaid. The interest rate for the 2022-2023 academic year is 4.99%, with a fee of 1.057% deducted from the loan amount at disbursement. Direct Loan payments are deferred while the student is enrolled at least half-time, and there is a six-month grace period after the student graduates, withdraws, or drops below half-time before loan payments begin. The loan offers multiple repayment plan options.

- ▶ Federal Subsidized Loans: The federal government pays the interest on this loan while the student is enrolled at least half-time or during times of authorized deferment. Federal Subsidized Loans are offered to undergraduate students based on financial need and grade level.
- ▶ Federal Unsubsidized Loans: Students are responsible for paying the interest that accumulates after the loan is disbursed. The interest can be paid while in school or the accrued interest will be capitalized (added to the principal balance). Federal Unsubsidized Loans are offered based on grade level, and financial need is not considered.

Direct Loans are processed by the Office of Financial Aid for the maximum amount you are eligible to receive, as stated on the offer letter. If you wish to borrow less, return the offer letter to the Office of Financial Aid and indicate the reduced amount. Funds are posted to the student's account each semester following enrollment verification, which generally occurs after the second week of the semester.

- Requirements for new borrowers: New Direct Loan borrowers at Champlain College are required to complete Entrance Counseling and a Loan Agreement for a Subsidized/Unsubsidized Loan (MPN). Visit studentaid.gov to complete Entrance Counseling and a Loan Agreement (MPN).

Federal Direct Parent PLUS Loan: The Direct Parent PLUS Loan provides a borrowing option for parents of dependent undergraduate students. Direct Parent PLUS Loans are federal loans that must be repaid. The student's initial offer letter indicates the maximum amount of Direct Parent PLUS Loan the parent may be eligible to borrow. The loan is subject to credit approval, and the parent must complete the application process outlined below in order to be approved for the loan and use the loan to pay the student's expenses.

- ▶ To borrow the Federal Parent PLUS Loan the parent borrower must apply for the loan by logging in at studentaid.gov using their FSA ID. To be considered for approval, the borrower must complete the links "Apply for a PLUS Loan" and "Complete a Loan Agreement for a PLUS Loan (MPN)." The loan must be newly requested and approved each year that the parent wishes to borrow. The Loan Agreement (MPN) is valid for 10 years after it has been completed.

The interest rate for the 2022-2023 academic year is 7.54% with a fee of 4.228% deducted from the loan amount at disbursement. The maximum amount a parent may borrow is the cost of attendance minus any other financial aid the student receives. Funds are posted to the student's account each semester following enrollment verification, which generally occurs after the second week of each semester. Repayment typically begins after the loan is fully disbursed (paid out); however, repayment can be deferred while the student is enrolled at least half-time.

Private Education Loans: Student loans from private lenders can serve as an additional resource. Given interest rates and loan provisions, families are urged to maximize federal student loans and review the Federal Direct Parent PLUS Loan before pursuing private loans. Private education loans are credit-based and require the student and cosigner to meet the credit approval criteria established by the lender. Selecting a private education loan and lender is a personal decision.

The Office of Financial Aid strongly recommends researching private education loans and lenders before completing a loan application online or signing any loan paperwork. Research should include a comparison of interest rates, fees, repayment terms, and the level of customer service provided by the lender. If a student chooses to borrow this loan, applications may be completed online with the lender for the amount required for the academic year. Once the loan application is submitted, the lender reviews it and may request additional information. The Office of Financial Aid is notified by the lender once the loan is approved. The Office of Financial Aid then confirms the student is eligible to borrow the loan amount requested and adds the loan to the student's financial aid award.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy

Federal regulations require that Champlain College review the academic progress of students who receive federal financial aid. The process takes place at the end of each semester (fall, spring, and summer). Refer to our website (champlain.edu/SAP) for a full description of the Satisfactory Academic Progress policy.

Federal Work-Study

Federal Work-Study (FWS) allows students with financial need to secure a job, usually on campus, and receive a paycheck for hours worked. FWS wages are paid directly to students biweekly, and the amount is not deducted from the student's bill. Information on how to secure an FWS job will be distributed in the summer.

Our Phenomenal Career Outcomes

Champlain graduates dive into jobs they love quickly after graduation (and sometimes even before!). Our primary mission is to provide you with a career focused and relevant education. And the good news? It works: A look at the numbers shows that, for our graduates, our approach pays off big time.

All Schools & Divisions Class of 2019 Career Outcomes

Statistics are based on data collected from 91% of all undergraduates in the Class of 2019 six months post graduation. According to the National Association of Colleges and Employers (NACE), the standard reporting from most colleges with similar profiles to Champlain is only 64% of the graduating class.

Limited options to temporarily suspend or temporarily reduce payments, depending on the lender.
Death & Disability	Loan cancellation or discharge is available upon death or total and permanent disability of the borrower or student.	Loan cancellation or discharge is determined by the lender.

Billing, Payment Options & Refunds

Tuition, fees, and on-campus room and board are billed by semester. Fall semester bills are due August 1, and Spring semester bills are due December 1. The following payment methods are available, in any combination, to assist in covering the cost of your Champlain College education.

For more information and updates, visit champlain.edu/pay-bill.

Payment Options

1. Payment in Full: Champlain's Touchnet billing system offers students and their families the ability to make payments by electronic check or credit card on a secure online network. Please note: Credit and debit card users will be assessed a 2.85% fee.

2. 5-Month or 4-Month Tuition Payment Plan: Champlain College offers the flexibility to pay billable costs through a 5-month or 4-month payment plan each semester. The 5-month plan begins in June, and the 4-month plan begins in July. There is a small enrollment fee, and payments are interest-free. You will have to enroll in the payment plan each semester by the billing due date.

Student Refunds

Students whose financial aid award overpays their student account balance for the semester will receive a refund from the Office of Student Accounts. Refunds are issued after the student's enrollment is confirmed, usually the third week of the semester. We encourage students to enroll in electronic deposit to their bank account for overpayments. To sign up, log in to WebAdvisor, click "Students," click "Bank Information" at the bottom under the e-Checks section, and complete the online form. Students who do not enroll for electronic refunds will be issued a check.

Cost of Attendance Budget

The student budgets listed below represent an estimate of the total cost to attend Champlain College during the Fall 2022 and Spring 2023 semesters for traditional undergraduate students enrolled full time.

The budgets vary based on a student's living arrangement and include the actual cost of tuition and the activity fee, a standard amount for room and board, and allowances for the typical cost of books, personal expenses, transportation to and from campus, and loan fees. Students are billed only for tuition, the activity fee, and room and board (when living in campus housing).

Budget for Living:	On Campus	Off Campus	With Parents
Tuition	$43,800	$43,800	$43,800
Student Activity & Health Fee	$420	$420	$420
Room & Board	$16,330	$13,138	$5,528
Books	$1,000	$1,000	$1,000
Personal Expenses	$1,100	$1,100	$1,100
Transportation	$1,290	$1,290	$1,290
Average Loan Fees	$70	$70	$70
Total Budget	$64,010	$60,818	$53,208

Certain majors are charged a program-specific lab fee. Students are also required to enroll in the College's health insurance plan unless covered by another policy.

The total cost of attendance figures above also represent the maximum amount of financial aid a student can receive from all sources, including Champlain College aid, student loans, Federal Work-Study, outside scholarships, employer tuition benefits, and any other aid from outside sources. Study-abroad costs, dependent care expenses, and the one-time purchase of a computer can also be added to the budget at the student's request.

"What would an ideal college look like?"

A lot like this. American higher education would be better off if more colleges tried to replicate what's going on here."
