CHAMPLAIN COLLEGE

We as a people, as a state, and as a community, have too much promise, too much potential, and too much at stake to go any other way than forward. We are too strong in our hearts, too innovative in our minds, and too firm in our beliefs to retreat from our goals
-Bill Richardson

Goal Setting

- Is not a transactional exercise!
- Goal setting can boost individual achievement and improve institutional performance.
 - Helping, providing, challenging, motivating yourself and others by:
 - understanding the connection between what they do and what the organization is trying to achieve.
 - allocating as much of their time, effort and personal resources as possible to high priority areas.
 - Providing a sense of achievement once people achieve a goal which fuels their motivation.
 - Challenging people and providing them with new experiences which helps them learn.
 - Motivating people to deliver desired outcomes.
 - Letting people know what is expected of them.
 - Pinpointing issues and empowering others to resolve/solve them.

Research for retention shows that the following groups need to be focused on for retention:

- Male Students (in general)
 - Pell Eligible Students
 - Students who do not have a campus job
- Think about your interactions with students, in what ways can you enhance their experience?
 - If you manage programs for students, in what ways can you enhance the program to bring more focus to these students?
 - How can you reach out to students or respond when you see something concerning to help ensure their success?

Fostering a Diverse and Inclusive Community

Recognizing that diversity is both a reflection of our world and a source of rich education, Champlain will be diverse in ways that reflect the world in which we live and work. All members of the Champlain community will have a sense of being a valued member of the College community.

As you think about your goals:

In what areas can you contribute to fostering a diverse and inclusive community?

How can you contribute to learning and improvement within yourself, department and the college community?

Champlain College will operate from a position of financial strength. It is only through the careful management of resources that the College will have the resources needed for continuous improvement.

As you think about your goals:

In what areas can you contribute to effectively managing resources?

- Are you thinking both at an institution and department level?
- Are you a good steward of the student's tuition dollar?
- Are you communicating/repurposing available resources in an effective way and containing costs when able?

As you think about your personal development plan:

Do you know and understand your budget? What resources/technology would help you manage your budget more effectively?

By January 1, 2019, complete an advanced Excel training course to upgrade my skills so I can prepare budget reconciliation reports with an analysis of trends and variances to help keep expenditures within budgeted limits.

During this year, I will be chairing the planning team for my professional association's annual conference. This is to help increase my communication and team leadership skills to prepare myself for greater management responsibilities.

By June 30, 2019, help develop and participate in cross-training for the office assistant team to learn procedures across all units of our department so that critical functions are covered during absences.
